MERRY CHRISTMAS

TO ALL THE FOLKS WHO LOVE HISTORY

Christmas 1894 in the Northville Baptist Church

This ship was constructed by James A Cole for a Christmas decoration and to hold Christmas gifts at the Northville Baptist Church. It was quite elaborate and detailed. It ran on a narrow track (lower right)

The church was located on the corner of Bridge and Main Street. It was built in 1869. Lightning struck the tower in 1902, setting the church on fire. The bell fell from the tower to the basement of the church. A new church building was built soon afterwards on First Street, where it stands today.

MUSEUM

Last month I mentioned that we mentored a Junior Museum Guide during the summer. I made the mistake on his last name. His name is Dylan Smith, not Dylan Wilson. My apologies Dylan.

“NNHS Newsletter” Book Two is ready. You can buy it at the ADK Country Store, the Town Clerks Office or from the Historian. $15.00 Makes a great Christmas gift.

Church Bell

The bell was badly damaged when it fell from the bell tower to the basement.

The bell was recast by Meneely & Co. West Troy, NY. and was placed in the new church where it is still rung each Sunday.

At the dedication of the new church, with the bell installed in the new tower, the following was read.

“When aged forty-six they tell, Baptized in fire, to earth I fell; July Fourteen, in Nineteen Hundred Two.

Next year, renewed, my voice I found And called on all God’s praise to sound,

And honor Him, with worship pure and true.”

TEDS GRILL TO CIRCLE IN 1958

This building, was located a few miles north of Mayfield on the road to Northville. It first served as a gas station and was operated by Ab Burr.

Mr. Burr sold it to Ted Mittelstaedt who converted it to a grill bearing his first name.

The next owner was Joe Neal who continued it as a tavern and restaurant. He also catered to a number of small banquets.

In 1958, George T Hall from Albany and Sacandaga Park, purchased the business and named it, Circle In.

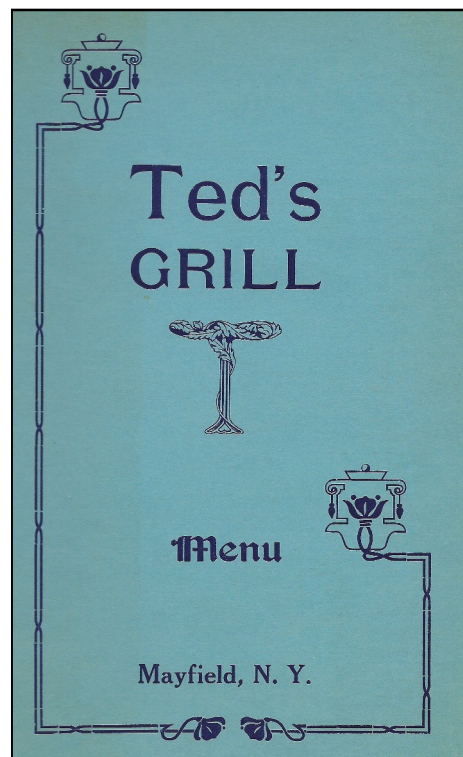

Many structural changes were made to the original building. The first thing that was done was the removal of the canopy in front.

Hall remodeled the interior building in knotty pine walling and renovated the dining area. In the first year he served approximately 500 dinners. By 1968 he was serving up to 25,000 dinners a year.

Five years after he started the business, the place went under a huge expansion, during which 3,500 square feet was added to the dining space and general landscaping was started. A new unit was built at the rear of the original building which more than doubled the accommodations. There were 3 dining rooms; The Pavillion, the Burgundy, and the original dining room, the Green room.

Unfortunately destroyed by fire circa 1979

People of Northville Are Opposed to Conklingville Dam Project. Amsterdam, N. Y., May 13. — The members of the state water supply commission visited Northville yesterday. The commissioners inspected the property surrounding Northville, which will be affected by the Conklingville dam project. The citizens of Northville are opposed to the project. The water will practically surround Northville at a depth of eight feet. The dam will contain thirty-two billion cubic feet of water and will flow in dry time for a period of 80 days, a greater volume of water than flows in the Hudson river, at low water. It is expected that the commission will make its report at once and that a bill will be presented to the legislature with a view to the enactment into law so that the construction of the dam can proceed.
